

ACHIEVED OUTPUTS

Academic CURRICULUM of the Archaeology and Heritage studies have been presented, implemented and adopted at the universities of Sarajevo, Tuzla and Banja Luka. This gives foundation for the sustainability of the project and instalment of qualitative departments at the BH universities. Specialized archaeological EQUIPMENT have been purchased, and introduced for usage to academic staff and students.

Many historical and archaeological books by BH authors are PRINTED AND PUBLISHED thanks to the implementation of the project; specialized school books and magazines are bought for the purposes of academic activities (studying, research, publication).

Specialized Summer and Winter ARCHAEOLOGICAL FIELD SCHOOLS have been held in Bosnia and Herzegovina (field school in Travnik - location Dželilovac, field school in Prijedor - location Zecovi and field school in Tuzla - location Srebrenik).

STUDENT & STAFF MOBILITY was implemented in the Summer semester of the academic 2013/2014. Students and staff members visited EU partner universities for academic activities and networking.

Through given lectures, EU staff visited B&H's partners and learned about archaeological and heritage potential of Bosnia and Herzegovina. B&H's Staff members have been TRAINED and new staff generation is being produced. WORKSHOPS for professional education for staff members have been implemented at the Banja Luka and Tuzla, and next one is planned in Sarajevo on 2 July 2014.

DISSEMINATION of the project have been implemented through the web site (www.tempusbiherit.ba), Facebook page (www.facebook.com/tempusbiherit), press conferences and media release, workshops, publications.

INSTITUTE FOR ARCHAEOLOGICAL RESEARCH at the University of Sarajevo was founded as a part of the Tempus BIHERIT project. Beside research, development and affirmation of cultural-historical heritage, it contributes to protection and affirmation of archaeological findings and its systematization.

ABOUT BIHERIT

MISSION OF THE PROJECT

The major goal of the project is to lay foundations for sustainable teaching of archaeology, art history, and other heritage related studies. The first two priorities are training of local teachers who would be able to take over the modernized curricula, and improving the infrastructural basis for these curricula.

REACTIONS

EMINA ČALIJA (University of Sarajevo)

Field schools contributed my practical knowledge in archaeology. Experience in Vienna, as a part of BIHERIT's studenty mobility, taught me that there's no only one approach of research in archaeology, and that every country offers different activities that we all need to learn and share.

EDO MEŠIĆ (University of Sarajevo)

BIHERIT really helped me with the lessons that were given by EU staff members, as well as experience of research in archaeological studies.
